

EXPRESS RANGE

This comprises the Spike pointed, Hammer round nose and Plinking, which is a flat face (wadcutter). These are made in the traditional style with a ribbed body. Despite their modest price they're well made and will offer all the performance you could want at short to medium range.

THUNDER BARACUDA

This heavyweight range is ideal for high-power rifles and those looking for maximum impact at long range. They have a great reputation for accuracy, especially in FAC-power level guns. The Baracuda Power version wears the copper coating, like the Field Target Power, to keep your fingers clean.

|                        |      |                |
|------------------------|------|----------------|
| Thunder Baracuda       | .177 | £11.95 for 500 |
| Thunder Baracuda       | .22  | £ 6.95 for 250 |
| Thunder Baracuda Power | .177 | £7.95 for 300  |
| Thunder Baracuda Power | .22  | £6.95 for 200  |

WADCUTTERS

For paper punchers, this range includes the Sport and the Match, in both rifle and pistol versions. The flat-faced pellets cut neat, calibre-sized holes in the target cards, making scoring easy. They also have a good reputation for close-range pest elimination, such as feral pigeon shooting when the flat face transmits maximum knock-down power.

PELLETS

THUNDER ROUND HEADS

This range includes the Field Target, the Field Target Power and the Sniper Light. The Field Target is a top-quality pellet with a long and well-proven track record, being ideal for hunter field target, field target and hunting. The Power version wears a copper coating that's 20% harder than a lead pellet and it ensures that you get no lead residue on your fingers. The Sniper Light is a new design of round head designed to maximise the velocity of your rifle.

| Thunder Field Target Power | .177 | £7.95 for 300  |
| Thunder Field Target Power | .22  | £6.95 for 200  |

HOLLOW POINTS

The final category is for the hollow points; the Baracuda Hunter, and the Crow Magnum. These are designed to provide maximum impact in your quarry to ensure a clean kill. As the name suggests, the Baracuda Hunter is based on the classic Baracuda, whilst the Crow Magnum has an even bigger cavity for maximum impact.
